DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bodell(U.S. Patent No. 4,768,186).

Bodell in Fig. 1 shows a transmission system comprising a multiplexer(6); an FM modulator(7); an optical transmitter(8); an optical receiver(9); and an FM demodualtor(11). Thus, claims 1 and 8 are anticipated.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2633

5. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

6. Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Fujito et al., (U.S. Patent No. 4,722,081) combined with Bodell (U.S. Patent No. 4,768,186).

Fujito et al., in Fig. 1 show a transmission system comprising a multiplexer(2); an FM modulator(1); an optical transmitter(5); an optical receiver(21); and an FM demodulator(25). The difference between Fujito et al., and the claims is that Fujito et al., multiplexes the output of a plurality of FM modulators as opposed to using a single FM modulator to modulate the output of a frequency division multiplexer. However, Bodell in Fig. 1 teaches the technique of frequency modulating an output of a frequency division multiplexer. Thus, since the technique of frequency modulating an output of a frequency division multiplexer is extremely well known in the art as demonstrated by Bodell, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to alternatively use a single FM modulator at the output of the multiplexer(2) in Fujito in order to reduce the number of modulators and thereby cost. Thus, claims 1 and 8 are rejected.

Art Unit: 2633

7. Claims 2,4-5, 9, and 11-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bodell (U.S. Patent No. 4,768,186) combined with LaGasse(U.S. Patent No. 5,373,383).

As to claims 2,4,9, and 11, Bodell discloses the claimed invention except for a transmitter comprising a light source for outputting an unmodulated light and Mach-Zehnder modulator. LaGasse in Fig. 1 teaches an optical transmitter comprising a light source(12) for outputting an unmodulated light and Mach-Zihnder modulator(16). Hence, since the use of transmitters comprising a light source for outputting an unmodulated light and Mach-Zihnder modulator are extremely well known in the art as demonstrated by LaGasse, it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to alternatively use the claimed transmitter taught by LaGasse in the system of Bodell in order to transmit the signals.

Regarding claims 5 and 12, Bodell discloses the claimed invention except for an optical delay device. Nevertheless, since the use of an optical delay device in the environment of the claims is will known in the art , it would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use an optical delay device in the combination in order to control the propagation delay.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 3,6-7,10, and 13-14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Art Unit: 2633

9. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: The art of record taken separately or in combination fail to teach the limitations of the claims.

Conclusion

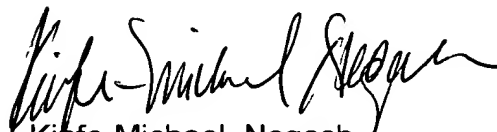

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The art of record are cited for their teachings of some features of the claims.
